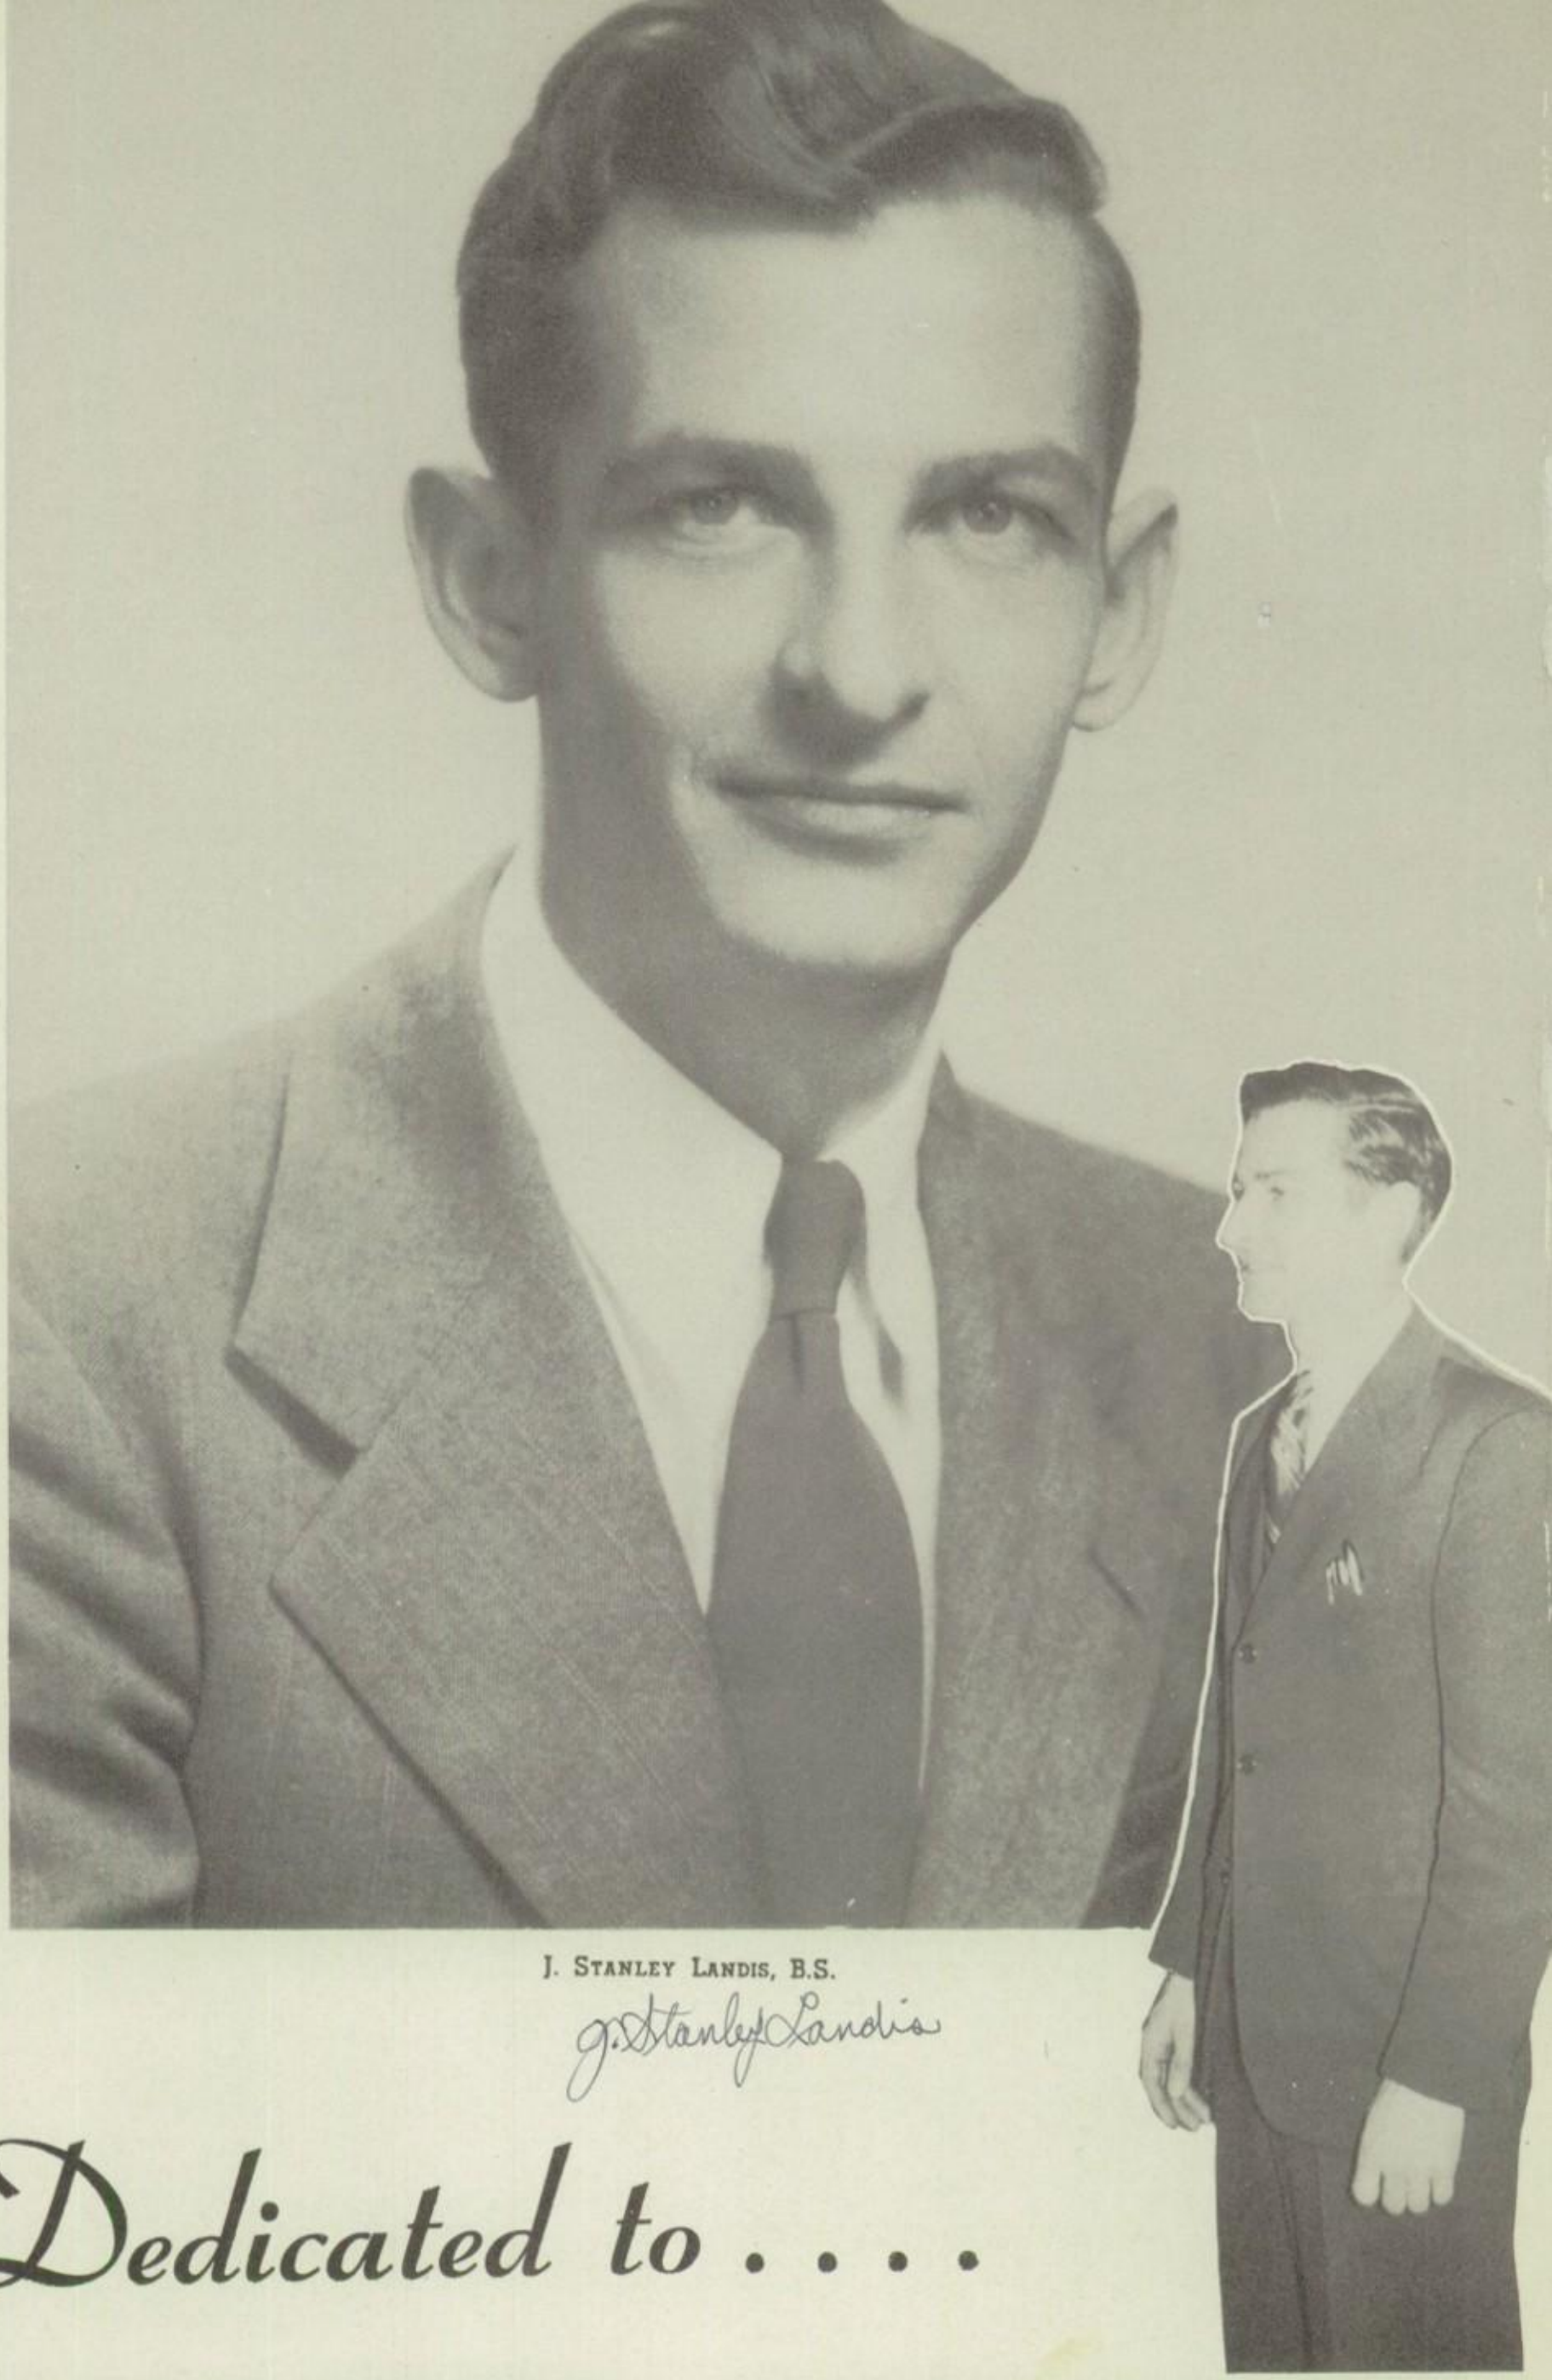
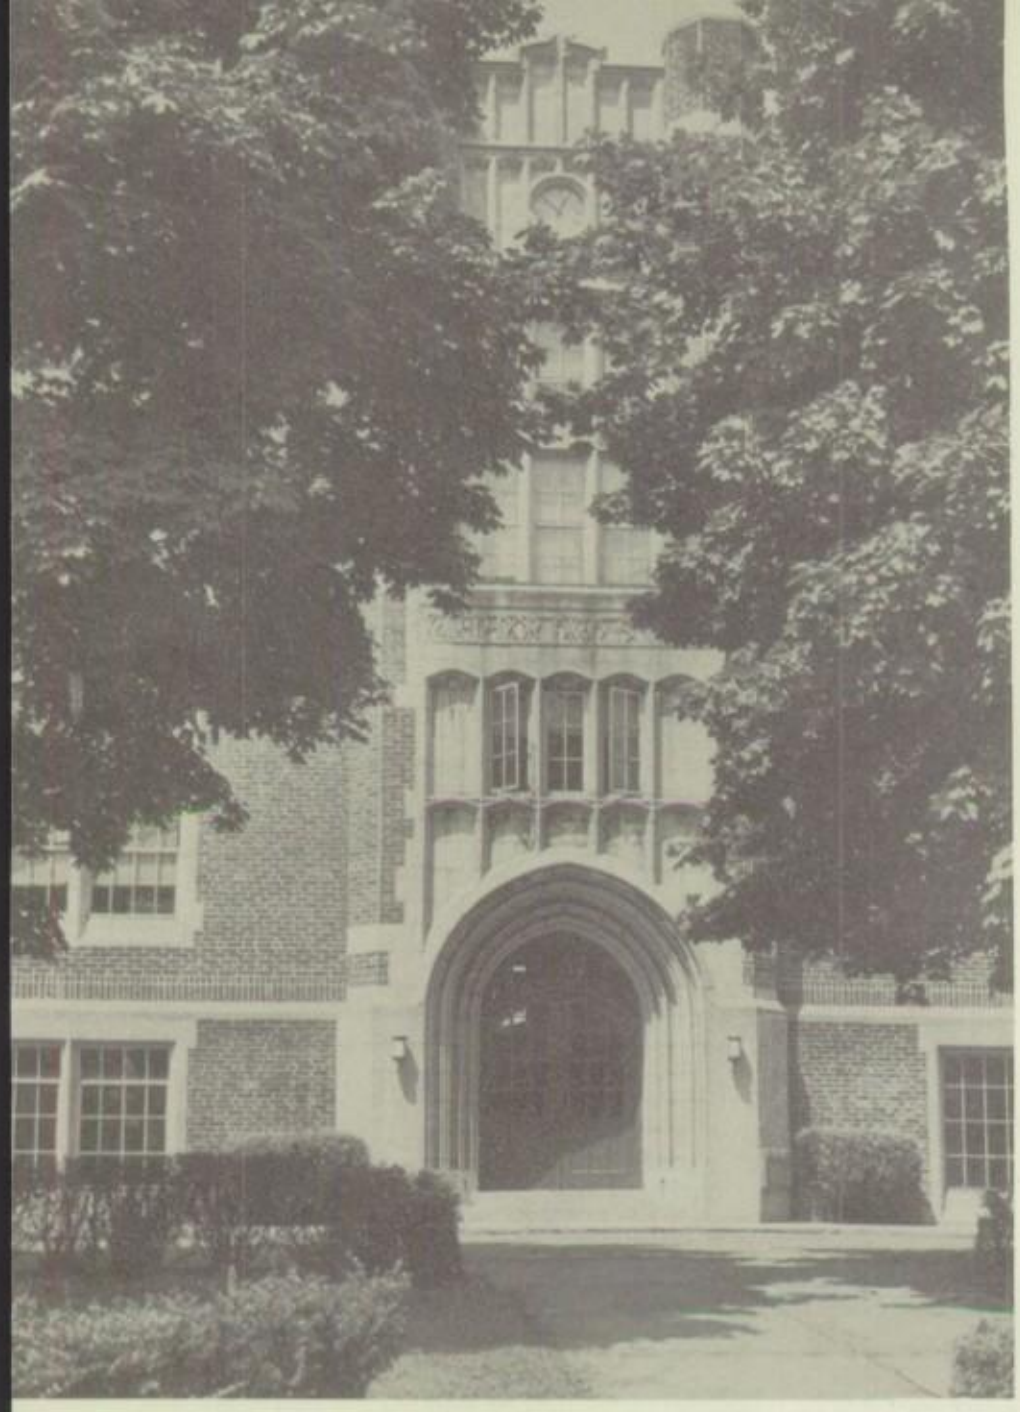
THE STUDENTS OF
HIGH SCHOOL
PENNSYLVANIA



J. STANLEY LANDIS, B.S.

g. Stanley Landis

Dedicated to . . . .



"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players . . ." these immortal words of William Shakespeare pertain to the lives of all, even to the teen-age boy or girl whose stage is the school he or she attends. Here at Glen-Nor for six important years the student's life centers around the school. Everything in which he participates—the daily learning routine, the athletic activities, the school plays, the dances, the assemblies, the proms, and the music night—relates to the school in some way, and more of his time is spent here than anywhere else. To learn the lines for all these great events and to master the motions for them, he labors many hours. Opening nights are frequent, and with few exceptions the performances are well received.

Occupying many on-stage moments and providing a means of reminiscing when the big "show" is over is the yearbook. This year for the first time the annual has a name all of its own. After much discussion and a balloting of the entire school, the book was finally christened The Chieftain. Especially is this name fitting in view of two things. Have not the athletic squads long been termed the Indians? And have not Glen-Nor students time and again proven themselves superior in achievement along scholastic, social, and extracurricular lines? Yes, definitely, The Chieftain is a title very suitable for the drama of life at Glen-Nor High School.

To you, the reader, then we extend a hearty welcome as you look through this yearbook—the program of the great play in our lives. May you enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed presenting it to you. The house lights are dimming; the final strains of the overture die away; so settle back in your seats and "on with the play."

All the World's a Stage . . . .

The Chieftain, of 1947, honors through this dedication J. Stanley Landis, who has expanded the horizons of Glen-Nor's world through his inspired instruction of shop and mechanical drawing; who has encouraged the students to be better members of Glen-Nor by his sound advice; and who has directed the Class of '47 with a deep understanding and untiring interest in its every endeavor.

How pompous we sound! Yet all these eulogies are well-deserved. Fully realizing, however, that none really helps you to know our dedicatee (and one must know him to appreciate him), we ask you to join us as we interview him personally. If you're ready, Mr. Landis, let's proceed—

Born?

"Yes. Lancaster County."

Where did you attend high school?

"I went to Paradise Township High, but it wasn't all paradise."

What was your attitude toward school as a boy?

"You mean, how did I like it? Well . . ." (Here Mr. Landis cleared his throat and the answer was inaudible.)

Where did you attend college?

"Millersville State Teachers' Collee. At the present time I am going to Temple University."

Did you ever teach at any school other than Glen-Nor?

"Yes. I taught at Coplay High in Lehigh County, and also at Fleetwood High, which is located in Berks County."

What do you do in your spare time?

"What spare time?"

Well, when you do find yourself free?

"Why, I am an amateur gunsmith."

What do you like best about teaching?

"The contact with young people."

What sports do you care for the most?

"Hunting and swimming."

Do you like to dance?

"Yes, very much."

Do you have any pet dislikes?

"Well, if there is one thing which brings me to the state of madness and rage it is having a person chew a dry cracker close by my ear—I can't stand it! For some reason I feel that c. ackers should be quietly devoured."

Do you think it an honor to be the sponsor of the Senior Class?

"I feel that it is quite an honor. The class was indeed considerate to have me."

What kind of an appetite do you have?

"Not much at any time, but OFTEN."

How do you feel about having The Chieftain dedicated to you?

"What? Is that what this grilling is for? Why me? It certainly is very much of a surprise. All I can say is that I am very grateful, and feel it is a high honor that the staff has chosen me. I won't soon forget it."

MR. D. H. ENGLEHART

Glen-Nor students and faculty members were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Daniel H. Englehart on February 13. Yes, he had been sick, very sick, but he had rallied. In fact, he was out at a basketball game only the previous Friday night. Then—he was gone.

For twenty-four years Danny, as he was known to all, served the school faithfully—first as a member of the original school board and then as chief custodian. Arriving in the morning before anyone else and leaving at night after everyone else, he served efficiently and cheerfully. Constantly he was on the job and willing to lend a hand.

Glen-Nor will certainly miss a friend and companion who made school days comfortable and happy and worthwhile.

and in Memory of . . .

MR. W. A. LOVE

Glen-Nor suffered a great loss in the death of Mr. Witherow Love, one of its valuable directors, on July 31, 1946.

In spite of impaired health as a result of a heart condition, Mr. Love willingly accepted the responsibility placed upon him by the community's citizens in being elected to the joint Glen-Nor High School Board. As a member he zealously fulfilled the duties connected with the chairmanship of the Properties Committee and the Vice-Presidency.

No praise can be adequate for this man who served the school so faithfully. Endeared to all who knew him, his opinions were highly respected. Faculty and student body alike pay homage to the memory of a great friend.

Mr. F. H. Roberts

Another noted civic leader who was primarily interested in the education of youth, Mr. Frank H. Roberts, passed away at his home last Thanksgiving Day at the age of eighty-seven.

For twenty-six years he gave unstintingly of his time and effort as a member of the Glenolden School Board. At the time of the erection of our own Glen-Nor High School, he was serving as its president. In honor of his many years of unselfish endeavor in behalf of local boys and girls, it was only fitting that the new sports grounds be named the Frank H. Roberts Athletic Field.

No greater memorial can be erected than this which has already been dedicated to him. Every day—whether it is the gridiron, the hockey field, the tennis court, or the baseball diamond—it is serving hundreds of Glen-Nor students. May it continue to stand as a constant reminder to them of one of their greatest benefactors!

Have you met the Glen-Nor School Board? The Chieftain staff is glad to introduce you to these understanding community representatives who work diligently to plan wisely and to direct the destiny of our school. This energetic group of men and women, whose monthly meeting place is the school library, is constantly seeking ways to make our school life a happy one. So, with due respect and gratitude, we honor Glen-Nor High School's deserving body of administrators.

"No, I don't agree. It should be like this . . . I just have to have five more pages for sports! What kind of sports' section will that be? The sports' pages are the most important in the book anyway . . . I say let's dedicate the book to Mr. X. No, let's dedicate it to Mr. Y. No, Mr. X. No, Mr. Y . . . How about calling it the Tomahawk? Or the Trailblazer? Or the Warrior? Or Ohan Owati? Or the Chieftain? . . . Look, if only we had an enlarger, we could . . ." And so passed many sixth periods in Room 16. Sounds hectic? No, not really. Only healthy discussion from which was born this yearbook.

The staff, organized last May under Miss Isabel Creagmile, didn't wait until the last minute to get to work. Instead the printer's contract was signed and the photographer selected before June, 1946, was over. Summer vacation saw all pages of the book planned, although these had to be revised time and again. Upon school's opening in September, work was immediately commenced to find a fitting title for the annual, which had gone nameless for years. After several weary hours of proposing and rejecting, the term, The Chieftain, was finally selected with the majority consent of the student body.

Then started the constant buzz of activity that went on every Monday and Friday afternoon when staff members wrote, crossed out, rewrote, photographed, collected money, captioned pictures and undertook the task of publishing this year's annual. Yes, often we wondered if there ever would come forth a book, yet here it is—Glen-Nor's twenty-first yearbook, but her first Chieftain.

WE ARE GOVERNED

The Student Council, under Miss Miriam Jones and Miss Jean Lentz, is one of the outstanding organizations at Glen-Nor. The council, composed of representatives from every homeroom, meets twice a month to promote the general welfare of Glen-Nor.

From the members of the group are drawn monitors whose duty it is to keep order and facilitate traffic in the halls during the passing of classes. From the group this year was also chosen a committee to revise the Constitution. Activities sponsored by the Student Council included the raising of money to buy records for the Juke Box and the collection of contributions for the Charity Drive.

Executives for the year consisted of president, William Hutchinson; vice-president, Robert Sparks; secretary, Marjorie Timmons; corresponding secretary, Alda Ann Yost; treasurer, Richard Heacock; and sergeant-at-arms, Joan McDermott.

OUR MORALE IS BOOSTED

THE HI-Y ORGANIZATION

Providing the opportunity of an evening of wholesome fun is one of the purposes of the Hi-Y organization. This year the club members took that aim to heart in a big way. Sporting events in Philadelphia were visited; gym nights were scheduled; and recreational facilities opened to them at the Chester YMCA were used with zest. Other Monday night meetings, at 7:15, were devoted to speakers who told experiences encountered in various places visited by them. Officers, under the guidance of Mr. Lynn Stephens, included president, Jack Bertolet; vice-president, Russel Schaffer; treasurer, Warren Spencer; secretary, Ernest Lord.

Spencer. Row 7: M. Kahler, P. Cassell, M. Williams, P. Dinmore, J. Carter, S. Assell, R. McCamley, E. Cooper, P. Hughes.

THE Y-TEEN ORGANIZATION

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Gertrude Hutchins and Mrs. Margaret Haddaway, the Y-Teens have had an active year. The girls, who, by the way, changed the name of their organization from the Girl Reserves to the present title, have been busy making dolls for unfortunate children, and place mats and menus for soldiers in hospitals, while at Christmas they sold Christmas seals in the bank. During the year they also helped to put on several assembly programs.

Through the efforts of their officers, however, meetings haven't been all work and no play. To tell the truth, there have been lots of good times skating, swimming, throwing parties with the Hi-Y, listening to interesting speakers, such as Rev. Ralph Andersen of Glenolden, giving "terrific" initiations, singing Christmas carols, putting on skits, and playing in the gym on gym nights. Executives included president, Mildred Freeman; vice-president, Ruth Lutz, secretary, Barbara Branch; corresponding secretary, Barbara Plumb; and treasurer, Marion Sipple.

TENTH GRADE HONOR STUDENTS

The following students were elected during their ninth year to Junior National Honor Society, but have not yet been accepted into Senior National Honor Society: Row 1: A. Porterfield, B. Plumb, N. NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETIES

The students who have best shown their ability to practice a well-thought-of school life and who have displayed outstanding ideals of service, leadership, scholarship, and character are rewarded for their efforts each year by the faculty in being elected to the distinguished senior or junior high National Honor Societies. To be chosen is indeed an honor. Under the guidance of faculty adviser Miss Ruth Hassler, these groups of students maintain a standard worthy of highest commendation.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Election to Quill and Scroll Society, national journalistic honorary organization, is considered to be the highest literary award given to a Glen-Nor High School student. Members of the Quill and Scroll must be in the upper third of their class scholastically, and must have done some outstanding work on their school publications to merit the recommendation of the sponsor. Successful applicants this year included: John Oakes, Patricia Richardson, Jack MacLellan, James Dyson, Jane King, and Roger McVickar.

WE STRIKE UP THE BAND

BOON GALLAGER
Best Musician

What is a more thrilling sight than the Glen-Nor band marching to the steady beat of drums or the sound of martial music which echoes from their instruments? Under Mr. Marlin O'Neal's expert guidance, the band has made steady progress to become the best high school organization of its kind in this area.

Making its gay appearance at football games and civic occasions, and faithfully helping to make assembly programs a success, the band has proved itself very beneficial to the school. During the year, it also entered a competition with other bands at the University of Pennsylvania, made broadcasts for the school, and brought its activities to a climax with a Spring Concert.

Congratulations to the band and its director for an excellent showing!

Scene 5 . . . . WE SING AND SWING

Among the popular "up and coming" organizations at Glen-Nor is the Swing Band. It certainly has done its part to increase school spirit by playing for dances, appearing on assembly programs, and adding that sprightly "oomph" to the Spring Concert. Wednesday mornings found its members faithfully practicing the latest hit before a crowd of fans who got up earlier than usual to fill the auditorium. Who knows? Maybe it's fostering another Gene Krupa or a Tommy Dorsey! Time will tell.

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast . . ." or so Glen-Norites believe when they listen to the strains of song heralded by the Senior Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Marlin O'Neal. Meeting every Friday since football season, the members have taken part in the Christmas program, and been the guests of Station WIBG on February 7. Biggest event of the year for them, however, was the Spring Concert, when each looked his very prettiest (or handsomest) and sang his best to leave behind many outstanding musical reveries.

WE LEARN THROUGH SEEING . . .

One of the most important active groups of the school is the Visual Aids Committee, under the direction of Assistant Principal E. E. Richards. Conducting weekly dances on Friday nights, providing visual and auditory educational aids for the classroom, setting up the loud speaker system for all types of school programs, and taking care of the show cases in the main hall are just a few of its many functions.

Among its properties is a large selection of popular records and educational discs, recording machines, films, slides, speakers, and microphones.

Members, secured voluntarily or by sponsor's choice this year, included Bob Sparks, chairman; Harry Oakes, Bill Cooper, Jack Crawford, Dick Rex, Jack Schiller, and Kenneth Mansley.

MATH TEAM

In spring of 1946 Glen-Nor sent two teams to participate in a mathematics tournament at Temple University. Final accounting found our squads in the upper third—a well-deserved tribute to Mrs. Gertrude Hutchins, sponsor. Under her expert guidance the teams returned again this spring. Unfortunately, it is too early to know the results.

LIBRARY CLUB

A junior high club whose main purpose is library service has been organized by Miss Kathryn Jennings. Pupils are instructed in filing catalog cards, checking in of books, arrangement of shelves, and decoration of bulletin boards. Officers of this year's group comprised: president, Mary Louise Stillman; vice-president, Janet Lutz; secretary, Joy Englehart; and treasurer, Jeannette Diedel.

PUBLICITY CLUB

This year an innovation occurred in the Interboro News, local town paper, in the form of a three-column spread devoted entirely to Glen-Nor High School news. To assemble the class notes, sports, club happenings, and other activities to be submitted for use in this column and as stories in the Chester Times, another local paper, a Publicity Club, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Seitz, was formed.

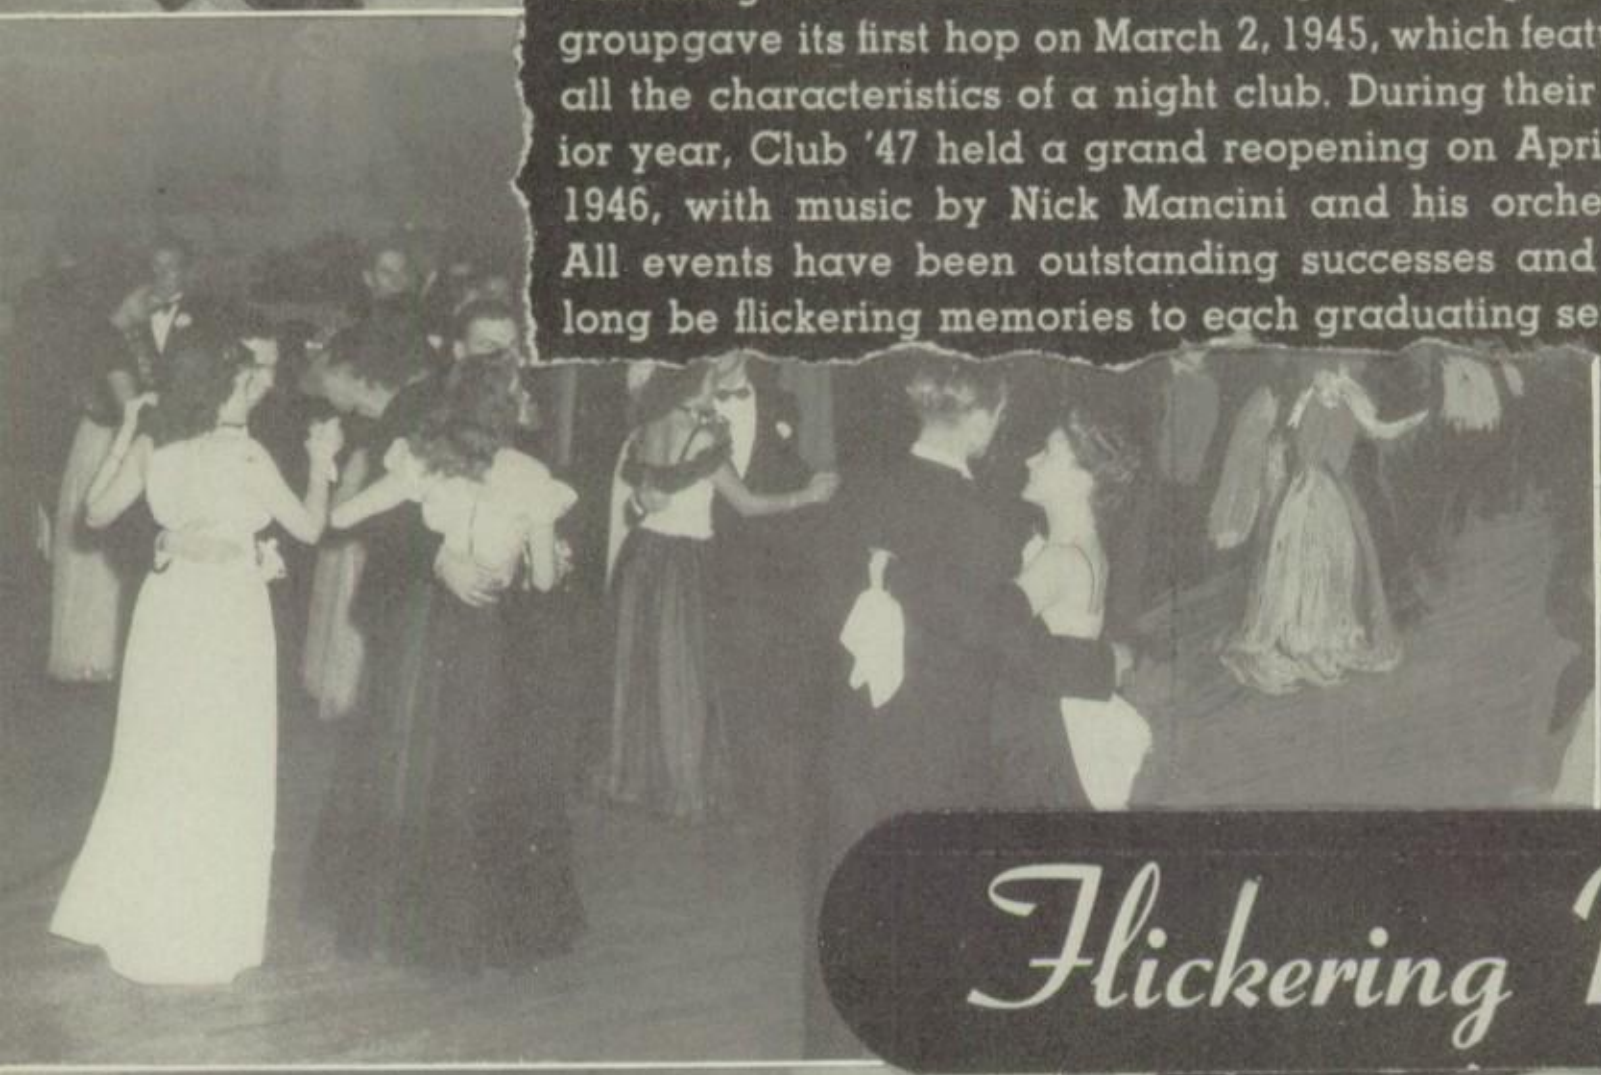
The Senior Prom, presented this year as the "Sno-Ball" on Friday evening, December 20, climaxed a successful career of formal dances under the Class of '47. Venturing into the field in their sophomore year, the groupgave its first hop on March 2, 1945, which featured all the characteristics of a night club. During their junior year, Club '47 held a grand reopening on April 26, 1946, with music by Nick Mancini and his orchestra. All events have been outstanding successes and will long be flickering memories to each graduating senior.



Flickering Memories

In early October, Mr. Bernard Seigel, direc tor of dramatics, began toying mentally wit the possibilities of the coming Senior Play. A student committee was chosen, and in a shor while a decision was reached to stage th
comedy, "Campus Quarantine," by Robert Ray
With the proper cast selected, Mr. Siegel an his assistant, Miss Katharine Paschall, bega production. After seven weeks of energetic re hearsing, plus a few understandable head aches, the cast was ready to don make-up an tread the boards. "Campus Quarantine," one of Glen-Nor's best staged plays, proved itself a great success by selling out the house for it three performances. A fine tribute to the cas and its directors for their thespian efforts!

THE CHEERLEADERS

This popular Club started off with a bang,
Electing A. Holmes to lead the whole gang.
Although our sponsor "fastened the tie,"
Thanks to the Cheerleaders, our team was still high.

For basketball season those sweaters were hot—
So flowing blouses we made for the lot.
Calots we added, and a bright maroon vest.
We certainly packed that season with zest.

Yes—swinging songs and a ringing cheer
Occupied pep rallies all through the year!

GLEN-NOR 7—WILMINGTON 6

For the first time in the history of the school the Indians trekked down to meet the Blue Devils. In the first minutes of the play Glen-Nor recovered a fumble on the one-yard line. Then John Forbes crashed over for a touchdown and an extra point. In the final quarter Wilmington completed a pass for its only T.D., but failed to make the tying point.

GLEN-NOR 0—SHARON HILL 21

The most lop-sided game of the year proved to be that against Sharon Hill. On their second play from scrimmage, the opponents tricked the G-N defense when Ed Taylor threw a long pass to Tom Zebley, who scored untouched. Sharon Hill quickly scored again, with Taylor going the last ten yards. In the third period the offensive continued to drive hard and furiously, Mike Sorentino, the S. H. pigskin champion, scoring the third T.D.

GLEN-NOR 20—EDDYSTONE 6

With a few minutes remaining until half time, Ernie Lord intercepted a pass and scampered fifty yards for the initial score. Glen-Nor then marched to the two-yard line, where Jimmie Dyson tossed to Warren Spencer, and the Indians led, 13-0. Eddystone on their first play tossed a flat pass, which Frank Morris intercepted and raced over, bringing the score to 20-0. With minutes remaining, the Stoners kept themselves from being white-washed by scoring six points on a fifty-yard run.

GLEN-NOR 34—PROSPECT PARK 0

By virtue of hard line smashing on a 15-yard jaunt, the first touchdown was made by Forbes. In the early part of the second quarter, Irwin recovered a P. P. fumble, while Rodier in two plays galloped over the goal line. Prospect again fumbled, this time Don Schneider grabbing the ball. On the third down, Dyson hit Spencer in the end zone, and Forbes' second conversion made the score 20-0. Rodier then plowed over the five-yard line, while Spencer picked up a blocked kick. Forbes again converted for the extra point, making the final tally 34-0.

GLEN-NOR 7—SWARTHMORE 0

The Indians had to win this one. Gaining a break shortly after the game started, G-N recovered a fumble on the fifty. Marching quickly to the twenty-nine, the Indians went into their shift which put Tom Barrar on the end. Tom shot down into the end zone and took Jim Dyson's pass unhampered. Forbes converted. Great defensive play featured the rest of the game.

GLEN-NOR 13—COLLINGDALE 20

In a neighborhood feud, Collingdale's Orange and Black took home a victory after a hard-fought game on the G-N field. After driving 50 yards through the Indians' line, Don Johns scooted around right end for a tally late in the first period. Coming back fighting, the Indians scored on a great pass caught by Jack Bertolet, and led at the half, 7-6. The lead was overcome by a surging Collingdale team in the third quarter, as they scored two touchdowns. In a final bid, the Indians scored on a pass from Dyson to lanky Spencer. The final whistle then sounded, the game going to Collingdale, 20-13.

GLEN-NOR 7—CLIFTON 0

Both clubs played scoreless ball until, with only five minutes remaining in the first half, Rodier galloped around right end for the only T.D. of the game. Forbes then converted, which made the score 7-0. The second half was a bitter struggle, with neither team being able to score. When the final gun went off, the tally remained—G-N, 7; Clifton Heights, 0.

GLEN-NOR 23—YEADON 0

At the end of the first half, the Indians were leading by a 2-0 score. Starting the second half, a pass from Dyson to Spencer netted a T.D. In the third quarter, Rodier took a pass from Dym Dyson and ran for 6 more points. Plunging over, Forbes kicked the three extra points to bring his record up to thirteen for sixteen, the best percentage in Delaware County.

Ground, sticks! Ground, sticks! Ground, sticks! The season was off to a start. Decent hockey weather, but the game was slow. Mary Williams, however, crashed through to make Glen-Nor's only goal.

GLEN-NOR 1—EDDYSTONE 1

For this game the squad was really prepared. Scoring was hard—in fact, impossible in the first half. In the second half, thanks to the fine teamwork of her mates, Bea Boorse rushed in to make the tying goal.

GLEN-NOR 0—RIDLEY PARK 1

Ridley Park was our toughest rival. But the Glen-Nor girls went in determined. In the end, nevertheless, the Parkers still proved too good for us. It was the first game in which we had not scored.

GLEN-NOR 1—COLLINGDALE 3

Collingdale seemed to be fighting mad over their defeat of last year. The result—odds 3 to 1! The one and only goal was made by M. Williams.

GLEN-NOR 3—TOWNSHIP 1

When Glen-Nor took the field against the Raiders, they had that good old "rock 'em, sock 'em" fervor which paid dividends. Mary Williams, who had been elected captain by this time, let us know it by scoring 2 out of 3 goals. Final point was made by our speedy wing, Alice Holmes.

GLEN-NOR 0—YEADON 4

When Glen-Nor visited Yeadon that bright afternoon in October, they little expected the defeat in store for them. Yeadon's swift right inner proved too much for G-N.

GLEN-NOR 1—PROSPECT PARK 3

Our next game we played against our old rivals, Prospect Park, on their field. The game was fast and exciting but our luck wasn't with us and we lost, 3-1. Mary Williams made our lone tally and played a super game.

GLEN-NOR 4—SHARON HILL 6

The spirit of the girls in this game was outstanding. Everyone fought hard and our coach, Mrs. Morrow, was really pleased. In her words: "If that only had been the first game instead of the last! We deserved to win this game."

Champs for the second straight year, but how close it was! Not until Gene Irwin, just before the final whistle, hit the hoop with a one-hander were the Indians sure of victory. Final tally in the annual Kiwanis Basketball Tournament found Glen-Nor triumphant over Chester by a score of 38-37.

Generally, this year basketball was highly successful, although the Indians were fourth in their section with 5 wins and 5 losses. Their over-all record showed 19 wins and 6 losses, including the Kiwanis victories over Prospect Park, Springfield, Media, and Chester.

High scoring honors went to Warren Spencer with 211 in the 25 games. Next two in line included Ralph Keown with 181 and Gene Irwin with 177.

Taking to the basketball court December 1, and practicing long hours, the girls ended the season with five wins and six losses.

All-round athlete Marge Spencer was high scorer, having accumulated 144 points—an average of 14 points per game. Second in the running was Emma Wolfe with a total of 109 points—an average of 11 points per game.

Elected captain was Loretta Davis, hard-fighting letterman from last year, who will graduate this June. Also among the '47 grads will be five other varsity players: guards F. Renz, J. McDermott, and M. Williams; and forwards E. Wolfe and P. Brandt.

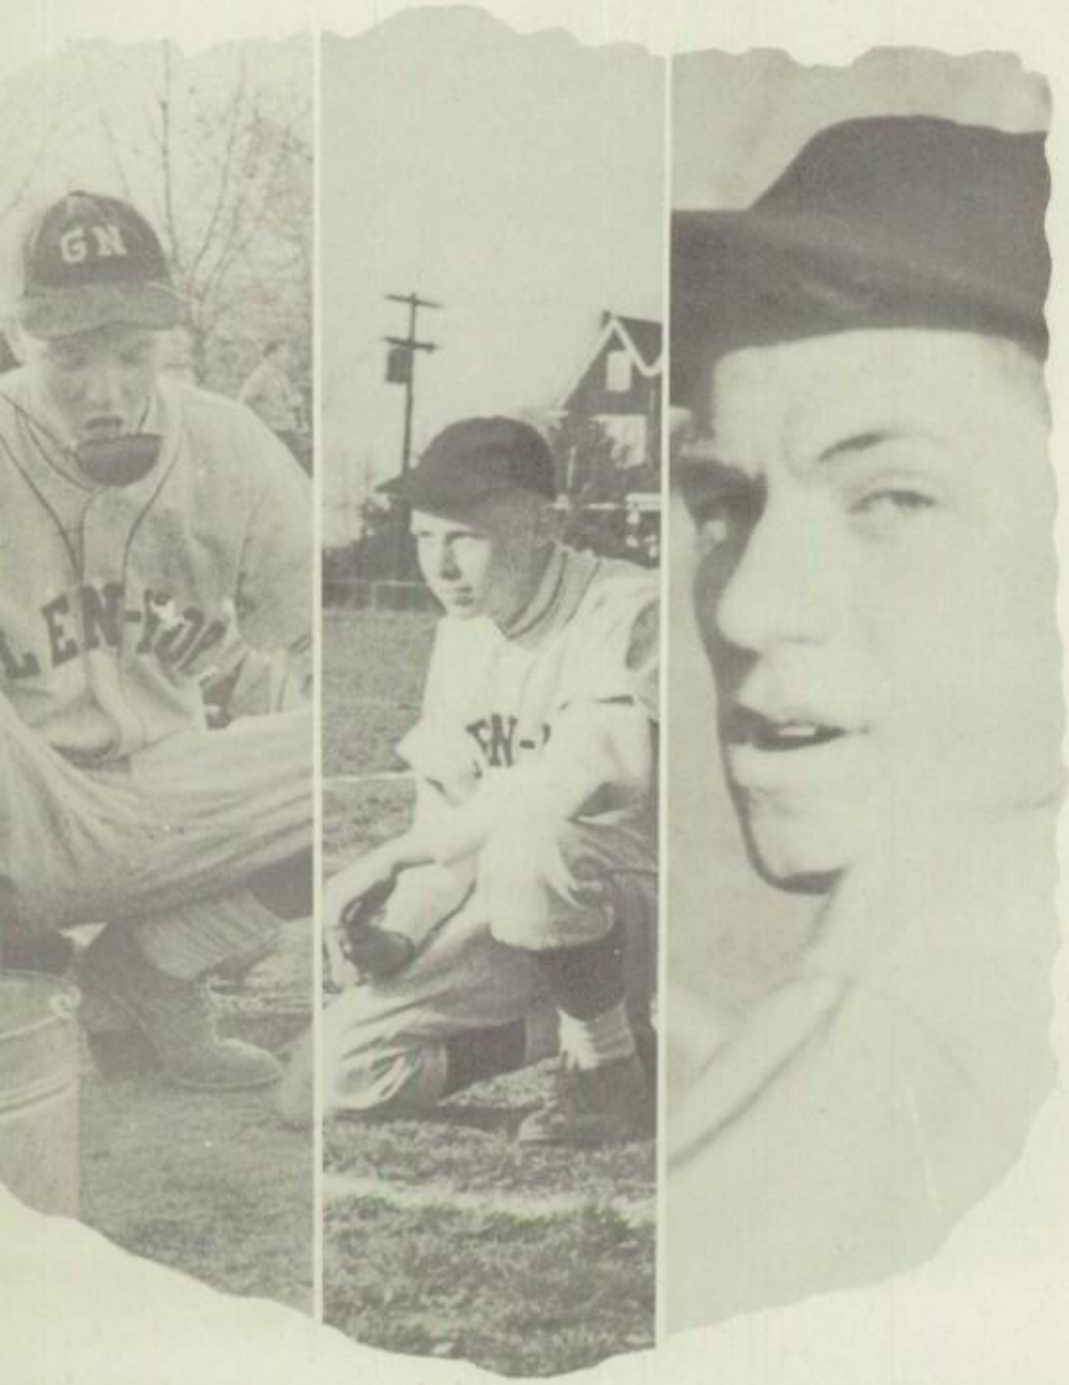
W. Spencer on the diamond.



This season will probably prove the greatest in baseball at Glen-Nor High School. This year, Coach Harry Fricker has the entire team returning with only two exceptions—a team that won seven and lost seven to come in fourth place last year.

Most likely starting line-up will be as follows: Jim Dyson and John Gilbert pitching; Johnny Forbes behind the plate; Jimmie Moyer snaring them at first; Gene DePaul playing the keystone position; Frank Morris playing short; Gene Irwin playing the hot corner; and Warren Spencer, Bill Hutchins, and Will Baxter running the outfield.

Yes, we're looking for great things in baseball this year.

RAISING THAT SCORE

JUNIOR HIGH HOCKEY

Faithful practice is sure to bring results. This was proved at Glen-Nor during hockey season by the Junior High Hockey Squad. Winning 3 out of 3 games and being scored on only once is a pretty good record. Gloria Cronk seemed to be high scorer, making ten of the twenty-one goals scored during the season. Thelma Corson and Joan Hitchner were tied for second place with three goals apiece. Just think—in two or three years these girls will be varsity material!

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

This year, starting out with only three of last year's starting players, Coach Knoll's Junior High Football Team did not sport a very impressive record. The end of the season, however, saw a great deal of improvement—so much so that in the final game they licked Eddystone, 33-0. Captain Hayes Baker was the speedy and shifty halfback who sparked the team on the offense, while Joe Soprano crashed through and made the majority of the tackles.

Dear Ruthie,
Love and best wishes to a swell pal and friend. Stay as sweet as you are.
always,
Bett.

To the directors, the administrators, the faculty, Mrs. A. Love, and Miss E. Roberts, The Chieftain staff of 1947 wishes to express its sincere appreciation for the utmost of cooperation received. To the student body and all the patrons, the staff says "Thank you" for your support in the way of subscriptions and contributions. To Mr. John Ursprung, Jr., of Campus Publishing Company, and to Mr. Francis Rubin, of Sarony Studios, the editors and sponsor wish to convey their gratitude for the patient aid received. To all readers of The Chieftain, each producer whole-heartedly hopes that you have received some small measure of enjoyment from this annual and that many of you will treasure it as a memento of Glen-Nor High School's twenty-fourth year—the year 1946-47.
